Quarter 2 – Module 11: Parenting

Introductory Message

This Self-Learning Module (SLM) is prepared so that you, our dear learners, can continue your studies and learn while at home. Activities, questions, directions, exercises, and discussions are carefully stated for you to understand each lesson.

Each SLM is composed of different parts. Each part shall guide you step-by-step as you discover and understand the lesson prepared for you.

Pre-tests are provided to measure your prior knowledge on lessons in each SLM. This will tell you if you need to proceed on completing this module or if you need to ask your facilitator or your teacher's assistance for better understanding of the lesson. At the end of each module, you need to answer the post-test to self-check your learning. Answer keys are provided for each activity and test. We trust that you will be honest in using these.

In addition to the material in the main text, Notes to the Teacher are also provided to our facilitators and parents for strategies and reminders on how they can best help you on your home-based learning.

Please use this module with care. Do not put unnecessary marks on any part of this SLM. Use a separate sheet of paper in answering the exercises and tests. And read the instructions carefully before performing each task.

If you have any questions in using this SLM or any difficulty in answering the tasks in this module, do not hesitate to consult your teacher or facilitator.

Thank you.

What is It

What is responsible parenthood?

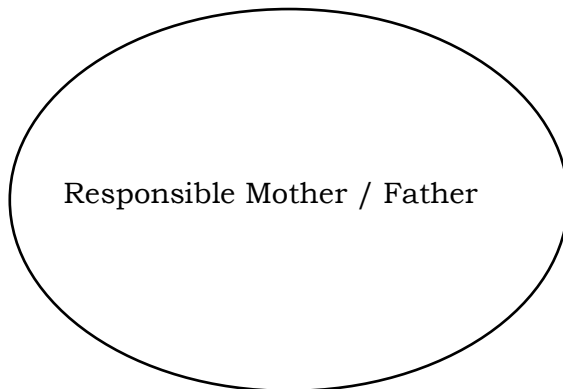

As defined in the Directional Plan of POPCOM, Responsible Parenthood is the will and ability of parents to provide the basic needs and support the goals of each member of the family. It is a shared responsibility between the husband and wife to plan and achieve the desired number, spacing, and timing of their children according to their own family life objectives, taking into consideration the psychological preparedness, health status, socio-cultural, and economic concerns.

Duties and Responsibilities of Parents

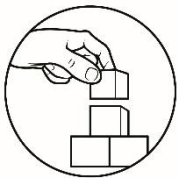

1. Provide physical care and love
 - The duties and responsibilities of the parents start during the prenatal stage. The physical, emotional and mental condition of children depend on the quality of prenatal care they received.
2. Inculcate Discipline
 - The parents should be role models in inculcating discipline in their children.
3. Develop Social Competence
 - The children should develop social competence in order to acquire the ability to consider another person's perspective concerning a situation and learn from past experiences.
4. Provide Education
 - It is the duty of parents to nurture their children's education so that they will acquire knowledge and develop skills and habits that will guide the way they think and feel.
5. Train children to become good citizens
 - Parent should serve as the role models in enhancing their children's social responsibility and commitment to contribute to the development of their communities. The children should develop their ability to uphold the law and promote peace and order in the community.
6. Teach children to be financially responsible
 - Parent should provide opportunities for their children to develop their ability to manage money and other assets in a manner that is considered productive and in the best interest of the individual or family.
7. Guide children to grow spiritually
 - Parent should provide their children opportunities to develop and grow their whole person by focusing on their spiritual life.
